It is surrounded by the Tramuntana mountain range. This well maintained village with its old streets, charming buildings, gardens, hanging baskets, and small street bars create a relaxing atmosphere. The most famous attraction is the Cartuja de Valldemossa. You will also have some free time to relax and to try the famous “coca de patata”, a small type of bun that is famous in Valldemossa.

A coastal road

After that, we will have a beautiful drive along a fantastic coastal road with great views of the mountains and the sea. We will pass Sa Foradada, Deia and Lluchalcari, this road will take us to Soller where we will stop.

SÓLLER

Situated in a valley and sheltered by the Serra de Alfabia mountain massif. We will visit its central plaza and its small gardens, lemon trees and flowers lining the streets. One of the most impressive sights of Sóller is the church designed by a student of the renowned architect Gaudi.
